

Liberal Arts College

Public Lecture

Artists and Humanism in Fin-de-siècle Vienna

by
Professor Werner Hofmann

Professor Werner Hofmann, one of the leading students of modern art, is currently Professor of Art History, Busch-Reisiger Museum, Harvard University. Author of Modern Painting in Austria, Gustav Klimt, The Earthly Paradise, Turning Points in 20th Century Art, and Grundlagen der Modernen Kunst, Professor Hofmann has directed the Museum of the 20th Century in Vienna and, since 1969, the Museum of Fine Arts in Hamburg. He took his Ph.D. at the University of Vienna, and has taught at Barnard College, Columbia University as well as the University of California at Berkeley.

Time:

Wednesday, 25 November 1981
at 8:30 p.m.

Place:

H937 Hall Building,
1455 De Maisonneuve Boulevard

CONCORDIA
UNIVERSITY

